

Silver Banksia Banksia marginata

Flowers: September - April - H 1-8m x W 1-5m.

Typically a medium shrub growing to about 2+ metres in height with a similar width, suited to moist well drained soils in sunny to part shade positions, but can with stand some winter water logging. Numerous yellow or golden green flowers are rich in nectar & attract birds & insects. Drought resistant once established & noted as an effective screening plant that tolerates some pruning to promote new growth & denser foliage. Very hardy and long-lived species.
